Releases Names of Passengers and Crew Members Onboard United Flights 93 and 175

With deep sadness, United Airlines now is confirming a partial list of the names of passengers and a full list of crew members onboard UA Flights 93 and 175. Both aircraft were confirmed to have crashed in yesterday's unprecedented acts of terrorism. At the request of the victims' families, a number of names have been withheld from release. Out of respect for the families and in line with sentiments expressed to the airline by the families, United yesterday decided not to release this partial list until this morning.

United Chairman and CEO James E. Goodwin said, "The thoughts and prayers of all of us at United are with the families and friends of the victims. United is committed to helping the families and friends of these victims and has mobilized family assistance teams around the nation to help. In addition, we will make every resource available at this company to assist the authorities with every aspect of the investigation. Yesterday's unprecedented chain of events has been devastating for all of us at United, to our nation, and to people around the world."

There were two pilots, five flight attendants and 37 passengers onboard flight UA 93. NOTE: The number of passengers onboard United Flight 93 was corrected to 37 after United learned that one passenger had purchased two tickets. This led the airline initially to report that there were 38 passengers onboard the flight, when there were, in fact, 37 passengers onboard.

There were two pilots, seven flight attendants and 56 passengers onboard flight UA 175.

The passenger and crew member names for each flight are as follows:
