Ajmal Amir Kasab Trial: 3 eyewitness identify Kasab in Cama hospital firing incident

Three eyewitnesses of the Cama hospital firing incident in the 26/11 terror attacks in the city, including a photojournalist, today identified lone captured Pakistani terrorist Ajmal Amir Kasab in the designated court here.

Deposing before special judge M L Tahaliyani, witness Anjali Vijay Kulthe, a nurse at Cama hospital, said at around 2200 hrs on November 26, last year, she had seen from window of the first floor of the hospital two people coming towards the hospital from Times of India (ToI) side.

She said the duo were wearing T-shirt and Paint, carrying a bag and holding a gun in their hands. They jumped over the wall of the hospital, and thereafter, Kasab had opened fire at the first floor, in which a servant Hira Jadhav suffered bullet injuries.

Replying to a query of Special Public Prosecutor Ujwal Nikam, the witness said injured Ms Jadhav was removed to casualty department of the hospital, after which she came back to her ward on the first floor and asked all 20 patients there to come to pantry room due to fear that the terrorists may enter into the ward from the window.

They remained in the pantry room till 0400 hours of November 27, she added.

When judge Tahaliyani asked the witness whether she would be able to identify the accused, she replied in affirmative and pointed her finger towards Kasab, who was sitting in dock in the court room.

Photograph of Abu Ismail was also shown to her, which she identified.

She said noise of firing and hand grenade blast continued for more than two hours.
