MUMBAI: Pakistani gunman Ajmal Amir Kasab's lawyers have claimed that the accused who is facing the gallows did not kill ATS chief Hemant Karkare.

Kasab's lawyers Amin Solkar and Farhana Shah had earlier disputed that Kasab was the terrorist at CST and Cama hospital during the 26/11 attacks.

On Tuesday, the lawyers said that the terrorists at Cama were different from the ones who opened fire at Karkare, and police officers Ashok Kamte and Vijay Salaskar.

They argued that AK-47 empties were not recovered from the sixth floor of Cama hospital where Kasab and slain terrorist Abu Ismail were said to have fought a pitched gun battle with the police. "This shows that the terrorists at Cama did not have ammunition for their AK-47 weapons. So how could they have killed Karkare and the other two police officers with the AK-47 guns while on their way out from Cama?" asked Solkar. The lawyers also questioned the reason for Karkare and his team heading towards Cama where the terrorists were hiding when they were informed by the control room that two gunmen were holed up behind a car.
