HURRIYET

-- BEING A TURK SAVED US

Armed terrorists came to ten separate locations including luxurious Taj Mahal and Oberoi hotels in Mumbai, the financial hub of India, by boats around 10 p.m. the previous night. The other places the terrorists raided were a cafe, hospital, Jewish center and train station.

Terrorists took up position with their hostages and clashed with Indian forces from time to time. Turkish couple Seyfi-Meltem Muezzinoglu had been staying at the Oberoi hotel and good news about the couple came on Thursday morning. While, 28-year-old Turkish lawyer Yasemin Erden was rescued in the evening. Erden hid herself in the bathroom of her room for hours. Turks who survived the horrifying attacks of the al Qaeda in India said, "They looked at our passports and told us that they did not have any problems with Turks. They separated us from the people with U.S. and British passports."

-- PKK ON HIGHWAYS: TWO POLICE OFFICERS DEAD

PKK terrorists who got to downtown in the southern Hatay province from Amanos Mountains opened fire on a police team making routine controls on Adana-Iskenderun highway. Police officer Ibrahim Darici, 37, died when terrorists opened fire from their car after police had ordered them to stop. Four people, including a baby, were wounded. A special forces team was sent to the scene of the attack and clashed with terrorists during the chase. Halil Aksak, 38, was killed in that clash.

-- ERDOGAN WIDENS MEDIA BAN

Prime Minister spokesman Akif Beki who did not renew the accreditation of seven reporters who followed Premier Tayyip Erdogan, prevented Milliyet's correspondent Abdullah Karakus and Vatan's correspondent Veli Toprak from covering an event organized by the Justice and Development Party (AKP) Women's Branches in Ankara.

SABAH

-- SUPPORT TO CONSUMERS

After preparing a package of measures against the global economic crisis, the government has launched other initiatives to revive the markets. One of the initiatives by the government is that the Treasury Undersecretariat would pay 30 up to 50 percent of consumer credit interest rates for a year.

-- TWO POLICE OFFICERS MARTYRED IN HATAY

Two police officers were killed by terrorists on the TEM highway in Iskenderun town of the southern province of Hatay. Ibrahim Darici and Halil Aksak died when terrorists opened fire on a police car.

VATAN

-- VIOLENCE AGAINST WOMEN CANNOT BE JUSTIFIED

Prime Minister Tayyip Erdogan spoke at the party's Women's Congress on Thursday. "Oppressive and conservative attitudes based on gender discrimination that imprisons a woman in an isolated life, excludes her from public areas cannot be considered a civil stance," he said. Erdogan also said, "No customs, no traditions and no understanding can justify violence by one person against the other. Especially women being subjected to violence is the gravest."

-- FEAST OF SACRIFICE HOLIDAY TO BE NINE DAYS

Premier Tayyip Erdogan said that Dec. 12, a day following the four-day Feast of Sacrifice, would probably be declared an official holiday. Thus, the Feast of Sacrifice holiday will begin on Dec. 6 and
