Rescue operations at Taj

The footage shows two terrorists walking inside the Taj Mahal Hotel

New CCTV footage from the 26/11 Mumbai attacks has emerged, showing how the Pakistani terrorists created mayhem inside the Taj Mahal Hotel.

The footage - available exclusively to Headlines Today - shows the Pakistani terrorists repeatedly entering and leaving room no. 551 in the hotel. They not only have the keys to the room but are seen bringing a huge rucksack in and carrying it out fully loaded.

Sources fear that the weapons and ammunition used by the terrorists were already stocked up in this room.

The footage also shows two terrorists walking through the Shamiana corridor and firing indiscriminately. There is an explosion at the cashier desk in the tower lobby.

The terrorists appear to be well versed with the layout of the hotel and in command. They move from floor to floor, door to door, killing those who come in the way. One of the terrorists shoots the glass of the north-cote entrance door down and enters the hotel's Palace wing.

NSG commandos too are seen in action, taking positions, giving each other cover and throwing a grenade inside a room. Moments later, the terrorists inside fire.

Every Pakistani and some Indias a proud about this massacre. Read the international and even Indian message boards and comments. Also see how Pakis were celebrating when the attack was on. This msg.may be only for the moderator here as they never allow any message to appear that criticises procongress and propaki elements in my opinion. They will simply discard this message as 'hate message' as we are not supposed to hate propakis whatever the tyranical attacks they inflict on this nation since ages. Love them, let them kick you and only then our media will pompously accept you a bit. This is my opinion as a free citizen of a free India.
