MUMBAI: A witness who had entered Nariman house during the 26/11 terror strike and came face to face with the two terrorists deposed in court on Wednesday. Kamal Singh, a businessman, said he had stepped out his house to take a walk when he saw a huge crowd gather outside Nariman House. He picked up a bamboo and went inside to check what was happening. On the first floor he saw the two terrorists and they called him a "kaafir" before firing a volley of shots at him, Singh told special prosecutor Ujjwal Nikam.

Singh managed to escape with his life by ducking and later identified the terrorists' bodies in a hospital. The two terrorists killed at Nariman house were Babar Imran alias Abu Akasha and Nasir alias Abu Umar.
